Blast off!

ROCKET

You get hungry
in space.
Jimmy eats a space sandwich.

I'm eating a space banana.

The sandwich and the banana slide down to Jimmy's and Linda's tummies.

Jimmy and Linda fly through space to Saturn...

Jupiter, Mars, Uranus... and mom?

Time for mom's little astronaut to go to the bathroom.

We have to do our routine, but Jimmy will be back soon.

Okay, I'll look for more planets while you're gone.

In space there are special space toilets for the astronauts to use. Jimmy also has his own way of going to the bathroom – he uses Navina. With Navina, Jimmy can go to the bathroom regularly, just like everyone else, on Earth and in space. And in between times he doesn't have to worry about accidents.

Right now his mom helps him, but soon he'll be big enough to learn to use Navina himself. And when he gets even bigger, he's going to go to astronaut school.

Yeah, now let's go to the sun.

Are you done already?

I thought I saw a flying saucer!

1. Bowel full - time to go to the toilet!

2. Insert the catheter and fill the balloon with air

3. Pump water into the bowel

4. Wait a few minutes

5. Water and poop comes out

6. Done! Wash your hands.

Let me tell you how to use Navina in the bathroom.
